Random House Trade. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Twentysomething Essays by Twentysomething Writers, Matt Kellogg, Jillian Quint, Selected as the winners of Random House's national contest, a stunning collection of essays ranging from comic to poignant, personal to political, by the newest, brightest young writers you haven't heard of . . . yet. Here, for the first time, current twentysomethings come together on their own terms, in their own words, and begin to define this remarkably diverse and self-aware generation. Tackling an array of subjects-career, family, sex, religion, technology, art-they form a vibrant, unified community while simultaneously proving that there is no typical twentysomething experience. In this collection, a young father works the late-night shift at Wendy's, learning the finer points of status, teamwork, and french fries. An artist's nude model explains why she's happy to be viewed as an object. An international relief worker wrestles with his choices as he starts to resent the very people who need his help the most. A devout follower of Joan Didion explains what New York means to her. And a young army engineer spends his time in Kuwait futilely trying to grow a mustache like his dad's. With grace, wit, humor, and urgency, these writers invite us into their lives and into their heads. "Twentysomething Essays by Twentysomething Writers" is a rich, provocative read as well as a bold statement from a generation just now coming into its own. Praise for "Twentysomething Essays by Twentysomething Writers" "Being in your twenties is weird. The world tells you you're a grown-up, but damn if you feel like one. With 29 sharply observant and well-written snapshots of life between the ages of 19 and 30, "Twentysomething Essays by Twentysomething Writers" couldn't have captured this more perfectly."-"Nylon ""You'll devour this compilation of essays by funny, smart,...
